VIII. Additional Information or Explanations

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION OR EXPLANATION
1. In preparing this year's report, an error at line 16 of last year's Disclosure was discovered, although for reasons set out below the error appears to cause no effective harm. The asset, BlackRock IVV Ishares Core S&P 500 ETF (reported here at line 12), was last year mistakenly designated as "Sold," although the relevant columns D2, D3 and D4, which require the date, value, and gain for such a sale, were of course left blank, given that the "sale" designation was only a typographical and proofreading error. In addition, a note accompanied the entry. The note indicated that the same IVV asset was also held in separate IRA accounts and was therefore reported in the same Disclosure as an active duplicate holding in those other accounts. Such "multiple reporting" of the IVV holding (as well as various other holdings in different accounts) continues to be the case in this year's Disclosure. In short, wherever an asset's ownership and/or account vehicles are substantially different, the named asset has not been aggregated into a single entry but has been reported separately. Given this non-aggregation throughout last year's report (as well as in this year's), it remained clear throughout that there were always active holdings in the BlackRock IVV iShares Core S&P 500 ETF. Thus, anyone concerned about a possible judicial conflict would not have been misled, and the incorrect "sale" designation therefore appears to have been a harmless error.
2. A similar error, also apparently harmless, occurred last year at line 30. At that line, this asset, BlackRock IUSB Ishares Core Total USD Bond Market ETF, held in IRA #2, was reported in the calendar year 2024 Disclosure as "Sold." That was a mistake: it was not sold, and it continued to be held and reported this year at line 16. Last year it was (and is again this year) one of the non-aggregated duplicative assets (last year reported accurately as active in IRA #3 at line 22 and reported inaccurately in IRA #2 at line 30 as sold). Thus again, despite the error, from a conflicts point of view it remained clear that there continued to be a financial interest in this asset.
