ADDITIONAL INFORMATION OR EXPLANATIONS

Yesterday I discovered that I failed to file the new monthly reports on a few transactions conducted in November and December, 2022. I apologize for this oversight.

Rollover: In a rollover IRA account, the investment manager held to full maturity (i) Philip Morris notes redeemed on November 2, 2022 and (ii) American Express notes redeemed on December 2, 2022, and rolled over the proceeds into (i) Philip Morris notes due 2025, and (ii) Pepsico Capital Resources notes due in October 2027. These are non-equity interest bearing notes.

Personal: After I transferred a personal account from JPMorgan Securities to a Fidelity account, I sold some equities that were too small to hold, bought some additional shares in Cisco Systems, and sold my interest in Enterprise Products Partnership LP. I made these transactions when away from Houston over the Christmas holidays, and when I returned home in the new year they were out of mind.

These transactions required no addition to my disqualification list; but the four equities sold should have been deleted by January 1, 2023. As of today they will be deleted.

After more than 30 years of full compliance with annual reporting, and having never made the Wall Street Journal or any other critical news story for having violated conflicts of interest while presiding over many thousands of cases, this new monthly reporting was not yet in my routine. I expect that now it will be.

If I owe a fine, then let me know. But if a senior judge may be indulged a mulligan on a first offense, then I shall be appreciative.

CERTIFICATION.
I certify that all information given above (including information pertaining to my spouse and minor or dependent children, if any) is accurate, true, and complete to the best of my knowledge and belief, and that any information not reported was withheld because it met applicable statutory provisions permitting non-disclosure.

NOTE: ANY INDIVIDUAL WHO KNOWINGLY AND WILLFULLY FALSIFIES OR FAILS TO FILE THIS REPORT MAY BE SUBJECT TO CIVIL AND CRIMINAL SANCTIONS (5 U.S.C. app. § 104)
